HOW WE BLUNDERED INTO KOREAN WAR AND TRAGIC FUTURE CONSEQUENCES

By Robert B. Dresser

See, first, page 40

Summary

(1) The United States is in great peril. If a war with little Korea can do what it has to this country, what will the ultimate war with Russia do?

(2) Through American aid and the incredible errors and bungling of our Government (to put it mildly), Russia has been built up from a comparatively weak nation to a very strong one, while our own military power during the past five years has steadily and drastically declined.

(3) Russia intends to use her huge military machine to conquer and enslave the world.

(4) The United States deliberately and shamefully abandoned its staunch and long-time ally, Chiang Kai-shek, and made it possible for the Communists to seize control of China.

(5) With a little aid from us, Chiang could have held China.

(6) The Chinese Communists are, like the Korean Communists, acting under the orders of Russia, and control of China by them means control by Russia.

(7) Control of China by Russia will probably lead to Russian control of all Asia, which has one-half the population of the world.

(8) With Russia in complete control of Asia, it is probable that she will be able to achieve her ambition of world conquest.

(9) With Chiang in control of China, there would have been no Korean war, and the danger of Russia's getting control of Asia would have been eliminated. As a result, the thousands of American lives which have been and will be sacrificed in Korea would have been saved and the danger of Russia's conquering the World would have been minimized, if not wholly eliminated.

(10) The responsibility for all this rests with President Harry S. Truman and his predecessor in office, Franklin D. Roosevelt. While many of the acts that have created this state of affairs may have been performed by persons other than the President, such persons held office only at his will and could have been removed by him at any time. Instead, he has consistently supported them and their policies and has insisted on continuing them in office. The responsibility, therefore, is his.

(11) The present indecision of our State Department as to the course to follow regarding the defense of Formosa and the support of Chiang, described in the press as a "dilemma," is no dilemma at all, unless it be a domestic political one of having to admit to the American people that its previous policy toward Chiang has been utterly and disastrously wrong. If Formosa is of great military importance to us, as General MacArthur and our other military leaders seem to think, and if our policy toward Chiang has been wrong, the parlor debate now go-

THE DEAN OF CANTERBURY

An Analysis and Exposure

PRICE SIXPENCE

ON Tuesday, July 8, 1952, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, held a press conference in London. He had just returned from a visit to China, and the purpose of the conference was that he might seek to substantiate, to the assembled journalists, Communist allegations that the forces of the United Nations have been conducting germ warfare in Korea.

The Dean has no qualifications as a bacteriologist, as he himself admits, and his remarks on this occasion would certainly not have received their widespread publicity but for the startling combination of two facts which always makes him "news". The first of these is that he is the guardian of Canterbury Cathedral, the Mother Church of the Church of England. The second is his passionate support of regimes which follow the materialist doctrines of Communism and his tireless propaganda for Moscow.

The conference was reported that evening and on the following day. The British Press, representing all shades of opinion in this country, is rarely unanimous on any issue. This time, however, with the exception of the Communist Daily Worker, all the newspapers united in condemning the Dean or in exposing the lack of substance in the arguments he presented in support of his accusations.

The Dean of Canterbury held his press conference on July 8. On that day I challenged him to debate so that his so-called "evidence" might be subjected to public analysis and argument. He refused to debate. Instead he spoke at a meeting at St. Pancras Town Hall a few days later and repeated his charges. On July 19 I held a public meeting at Canterbury at which I subjected his allegations to a searching examination, and I think that the vast majority of those present were convinced that there was no foundation at all for them. On the following day the Dean preached in Canterbury Cathedral and repeated the allegations, besides praising the Chinese Communists and attacking the American people. The same evening Alderman Mrs. Hews, a former Mayor of Canterbury, and I sent a telegram of protest to the Archbishop of Canterbury.
